AN AMERICAN HERO.

Philadelphia Record: One more name must be marked off the list of United States army officers and added to the roll of our heroes. In the death of Colonel Harry C. Egbert the country has lost a most able and courageous soldier-a veteran of two wars-who emerged from the scathing fire at Gettysburg to die, sword in hand, on the far mide of the world.

Chicago Tribune: Colonel Harry C. Egbert is the conspicuous name in the list of killed in the series of battles now raging near Manila. He died fighting at the head of his men. He served the nation as a fighting man for thirty-eight years from the day of his appointment as a first lieutenant by President Lincoln in 1861. His record has been notable for its deeds of valor, and particuularly during the war with Spain. He won the laurels of a regiment's homage when at San Juan he led the charge up the hill, and he paid the price of his courage by falling wounded in the fight. But in the long list of men recommended for promotion for bravery there was no mention of Egbert.

Chicago Post: His death in the Philippines was due to his own determination to fight for his country so long as fighting was to be done. His wound at San Juan hill was sufficient to incapacitate him for duty in the Philippines had he been willing to accept the decision of the surgeons, but he insisted upon going with his command. The army of the United States suffered much in the death of Colonel Egbert. He held the highest rank of any American killed in the war, was an invaluable officer and furnished a splendid example for younger officers and men. And all the pathos | aldo and the cabinet have been for two of the sudden close of an honored and days.

But the shooting has been just active enough to make the lives of the soldiers a burden and to compel the officers to sleep in trenches, clothed and in readiness to repel possible attacks. Most of the Americans are becoming convinced that the backbone of the insurgent opposition is broken. There are numerous rumors pointing to an early collapse of the insurrection. One of these is that General Pio del Pilar the best fighter among the Filipino officers, will desert Aguinaldo and give his support to the Americans.

Ohio Municipal Election CINCINNATI, April 4.—The elections in Ohio yesterday were generally for municipal and township officers. While local issues usually control these spring elections, yet there were other influences in some places. At Cleveland, there was a decisive Democratic victory on the head of the ticket, but Farlev's election was not due alone to the local opposition to Mayor McKisson for a third term. McKisson last year was the candidate of the bolting Republicans and the Democrats in the legislature against Senator Hanna. At Columbus a Republican mayor was elected for the first time in 12 years. It is the popular young teacher in the high school, may be a very proficient instructor in chemistry, but after his several contributions last evening to the general fun and musical program, some of his admirers were heard to remark that 'Bech ought to go on the stage.' His makeup was a wonder and he sang 'I've Been Hoodoed' in a way to make a real coon green-eyed. Everybody applauded, and kept it going until Mr. Becher gave his favorite, 'Mulligan's Daughter Belle.' He was too clever to be allowed to escape even then, and he had to respond to a determined call for a second encore. He sang 'Die Macht am Rhein.
